

View This World

by Alexis Crafts

I want to see who you'll become
and how you'll view this world
in a bleak yet hopeful future.
To see how beautiful nature Becomes. Blooming with bright flora and lively fauna right before your eyes.
Filled with fluffy hopes and dreams,
I want you to see the world
how I see the world.
The endless opportunities to explore and adventures to seek in time.
You have the chance to become anything your biggest,
wildest dreams could ever imagine.
So let's go and see the flora and fauna
and see what the world has to offer.
See the creatures gifted upon this earth
and breathe in the fresh air again.
I want to see who you'll become
and how you'll view this world
when you are no longer knee-high.
